

Palliative care and planning for your care

PCA is joining with the A.C.T. Disability, Aged and Carer Advocacy Service (ADACAS) to provide a forum on disability and palliative care.

What do providers, consumers and carers need to know about decision making and planning for end of life in this community? How can we all work together to ensure palliative care is delivered where it is needed at the right time?

PCA has brought together a number of speakers with personal and professional interest in the area. Michael Chapman will offer an introduction to palliative care, while Kate Rea will discuss decision making and advocacy for impacted groups. Fiona Tito Wheatland has both professional and personal experience to share in this area and Jane Beaumont will outline the position from the perspective of the National Disability Insurance Agency.

Lunch will be provided on arrival.

To register, contact Heidi heidi@palliativecare.org.au

palliativecare.org.au

Palliative Care Australia (PCA) is holding a number of community forums to raise awareness and build literacy around death and dying in Australia.

Speakers

Michael Chapman, Palliative Care Physician

Kate Rea, ACT Disability Aged and Carer Advocacy Service

Fiona Tito Wheatland, Australian Law Reform Commission

Jane Beaumont, National Disability Insurance Agency

When
Thursday, 23 July 2015

Time
1pm - 4pm

Venue
Canberra Museum and Gallery Theatre
Cnr London Circuit and Civic Square, Canberra City

In partnership with

